

Rose to the Occasion

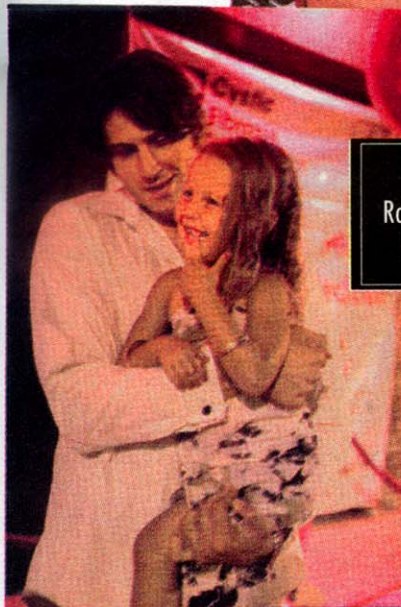

The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation's blooming success

“65 Roses,” an annual fundraiser benefiting the Louisiana chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, was held July 8 at Republic New Orleans. The party, hosted by Robert LeBlanc and Leah Bauer, was a mix of beauty and the beat with “White Rose” martinis and music from New Orleans-based rockers the Vettes and the Hush. Later on in the evening, the Los Angeles-based Dynamite Brothers (Roosevelt Hotel, LAX) had guests swaying to a medley of disco, pop, punk and hip-hop. This event has a special meaning to Leah Bauer, because her three-year-old daughter Grace Rose, has cystic fibrosis. The party raised nearly $10,000 for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. 🌹

Event co-chair Leah Bauer, Grace Rose Bauer, Rebecca Snedekker and Danielle Webb

Event co-chair Robert LeBlanc with Grace Rose Bauer

"The Lady of the Rose"

photo: Chris Brown/Flame Studios

The LA-based Dynamite Brothers

